One-Name Study Registration

You don't need to register a one-name study as soon as you join. You can become a member and gain from most of the Guild's services and benefits. Then, over time, you can register up to a maximum of three different one-name studies. For each study registered you pay a once only registration fee of £14, but you can include a reasonable number of variant surnames within each registered study.

When you register a one-name study you agree to accept the following principles in relation to your study:

- Deal with all enquires received that relate to your registered study in a reasonable period.
- That it is of global scope and includes research within countries where the study name is relatively significant and where sources of genealogical data are readily available.
- Maintain, through the Members' Room on the website, an accurate description of the cope and progress of the study using the study codes.

The Study Registrar reviews all registration submissions carefully to ensure they comply with our study principles and may request changes, or reject an application, where necessary.
